

e-Blast 9/23/22

We have been closely monitoring Tropical Depression Nine. At this point we are still uncertain of the exact conditions we may experience.

Management will continue to monitor the situation and will be prepared to act on securing our common areas as needed. We have been in contact with the Captains and our new Caretaker Steve who are proactively making sure the community is ready for the possible storm.

We recommend at this time that you contact your Home Watch Company or person who is taking care of your unit while you're away. Strong winds are still a possibility, all owners should arrange to have their lanai furniture and any loose items pulled inside and hurricane shutters in place if applicable.

Keep in mind that during strong winds the ferry may not be operating. We will continue to monitor the storm and keep you posted with any new developments.

Sincerely,

Kathy Dressel
