

Attention Unit Owners,

The Little Gasparilla Property Owners Association (LGPOA) has negotiated an agreement with the Florida Emergency Management Administration (FEMA). The agreement allows blanket coverage for free storm debris removal on the entire island. The removal process has begun, and the vendor performing the task would like to start removing debris at Hideaway. Of concern, is the debris behind buildings D and E. Those buildings have significant amounts of household items, on the common grounds, near the crib entrances underneath the units. We've asked the vendor to temporarily hold off removing those items so we could check with owners to see if anyone has items that should not be trashed. Please note that this pertains to items totally out from under the building. Anything underneath will not be touched. If you have anything that you want saved, please let Grande Properties know by 02/22. For all owners: If you have any items placed under your unit you'd like trashed, please also contact Grande Properties by 02/22. ADU has offered to move items stored underneath into trash piles as they would like unencumbered access as when they move into the rebuilding phase. Sorry for the short notice, but communication on this project has been sketchy island wide. We're not sure how long this service will be available.
